STUDENT SESSION • YOU'RE THE PARTY LEADER

Run the Quest

Name: _____ Class: _____ Date: _____

You're the party leader now. An AI agent is a party member — capable, tireless, EXTREMELY literal. It does what the quest card SAYS, never what you meant. Leaders don't redo the squad's work; they review it: QUEST CARD → ROLES → CHECK THE LOOT → SHIP IT or RUN IT BACK.

✓ STEP 1 — PICK YOUR QUEST (TEAM OF 3)

Circle one: GAME NIGHT PAGE — a one-page flyer that gets grades 6–8 to show up • ZINE ISSUE #1 — the plan for your zine's first issue

✓ STEP 2 — WRITE THE QUEST CARD (ONE PER TEAM — EVERYONE COPIES IT)

GOAL

What does winning mean?

WHAT WE KNOW

Who is it for? What do we already have?

RULES OF THE RUN

Limits: length, tone, deadline

DONE LOOKS LIKE

The exact thing handed back

✓ STEP 3 — ROLE CARDS (TAKE ONE EACH)

PLANNER

Turn the quest card into a numbered step list with a time guess per step. If the card doesn't answer something, don't guess — write "NOT ON THE CARD."

SCOUT

List every fact the quest needs (times, places, names, rules). Mark each ✓ verified (say where) or ? needs checking. No guesses dressed as facts.

CRITIC

Write 3 specific upgrades tied to the audience on the card. "Make it better" is banned — name the exact change and why.

Squad rules: work SILENTLY, from the card alone — agents can't read minds. Write your output on your own paper and hand it to your leader.

THE PARTY LEADER LESSON • LESSON 6 OF 6 • CAPSTONE

Lead Your AI Squad

A 45-minute capstone. The hook: an AI agent is a party member — capable, tireless, extremely literal. Party leaders don't redo the squad's work; they write the quest card, assign the roles, and check the loot. Stands alone; no earlier lesson required.

AT A GLANCE

TIME	MATERIALS	TECH NEEDED	PREP
45 min	Run the Quest worksheet (1 per student); loose-leaf for squad outputs	None — fully unplugged by design	Print worksheets. Plan teams of 3. That's it.

OBJECTIVES

- Students can write a complete quest card (goal · what we know · rules of the run · done by a literal-minded agent could follow without guessing).
- Students can split a project into squad roles (planner, scout, critic) and execute a role on the quest card alone.
- Students can review work against the CHECK rubric (accuracy, taste, mess) and write a specific run-it-back note.

WARM-UP — IT DID EXACTLY WHAT YOU SAID (7 MIN)

Tell the class about your new party member: maxed-out stats, never sleeps, never complains — and painfully literal. Three orders from last night's run:

"Guard the door." → Guarded the door. Only the door. The enemies came in through the window.

"Grab everything in the chest." → Everything. Including the cursed amulet with the obvious skull on it.

"Wait here." → Still waiting. It has been three in-game days.

Then ask: whose fault was that — the party member's, or the orders? (Lesson 1 alumni will call it: this party member IS the literal genie — it just joined your squad. New classes need no backstory.)

Bridge: "An AI agent is this party member: fast, tireless, never salty — and it does exactly what the quest says. You'll never out-grind it. You CAN out-lead it. Today you learn the leader's loop: quest card, roles, check the loot — then ship it or run it back."

✓ STEP 4 — LEADER REVIEW: CHECK THE LOOT

Rotate: each teammate reviews ONE other player's output. Read it like it ships with your name on it — because it does.

Party member I'm reviewing: _____ Their role: _____

CHECK	EVIDENCE (QUOTE IT OR POINT TO IT)	VERDICT
ACCURACY Is every stated fact verified? _____	_____	SHIP IT RUN IT BACK (circle one)
TASTE Does it fit the audience and vibe on the card — or is it generic? _____	_____	SHIP IT RUN IT BACK (circle one)
DONE-NESS Is everything the card asked for actually here? _____	_____	SHIP IT RUN IT BACK (circle one)

✓ THE RUN-IT-BACK NOTE

Even great work gets one — name what to polish. Be specific: your party member should never have to guess.
