

STUDENT SESSION • YOU'RE THE PARTY LEADER

Run the Quest

Name: _____ Class: _____ Date: _____

Everyone is a party member AND a leader. Steps 1–2: you lead. Step 3: you play an AI agent. Step 4: you lead again. An AI agent does a whole job, step by step, on its own — and if your card leaves something out, the agent usually fills the gap with a guess and keeps going. So the leader checks, using the loop: QUEST CARD → ROLES → CHECK THE LOOT → SHIP IT or RUN IT BACK.

Party = your team of 3; a party member does one job. Roles = who does which slice. Quest card = the job, written down in four parts. Loot = the finished work. SHIP IT = finished and correct, send it. RUN IT BACK = do it again.

✓ STEP 1 — PICK YOUR QUEST (TEAM OF 3, CHECK ONE)

☐ GAME NIGHT FLYER — a one-page flyer that gets 6th graders to show up

☐ CLASS MAGAZINE, ISSUE #1 — the plan for the first issue of a magazine your class makes

✓ STEP 2 — WRITE THE QUEST CARD (ONE PER TEAM)

Decide all four parts together. One person writes them: the card-holder, whose first name comes first in ABC order. The card-holder's page 1 becomes your team's quest card.

GOAL

What does winning mean?

WHAT WE KNOW

Who is it for? What does your team have?

RULES OF THE RUN

Limits: how long, what tone, when it's due

🟢 STEP 3 — ROLE CARDS (TAKE ONE EACH)

Now switch: for 8 minutes YOU play an AI agent. Roles: the card-holder is the Planner. Of the other two, the first name in ABC order is the Scout. The other is the Critic.

Seats: Sit in a triangle. The Scout sits on the Planner's left; the Critic sits on the Scout's left. The card-holder's page 1 goes face-up in the middle. Read it all you want. Ask nothing.

Work SILENTLY on a blank sheet, not this worksheet. At the 4-minute call, the Critic reads the Planner's list over their shoulder.

PLANNER

0–4 min: number the steps to finish the quest. If the card doesn't say, don't guess — write "NOT ON THE CARD." 4–8 min: add a time guess to each step; star the one most likely to go wrong.

SCOUT

0–4 min: list every fact the quest needs. Mark each ✓ (we know it for sure — say how) or ? (needs checking — say where). 4–8 min: turn every ? into the one question you'd ask, in writing.

CRITIC

0–4 min: write 2 things the people on the card care about, and 1 thing they'd hate. 4–8 min: read the Planner's list and write 3 upgrades. "Make it better" is banned.

🟢 STEP 4 — LEADER REVIEW: CHECK THE LOOT

You're the leader again. The paper in your hands is the loot. Read it like your name is on it — because it is.

- At 8 minutes: Every paper moves one seat to its owner's left — the Planner's plan goes to the Scout, the Scout's questions go to the Critic, the Critic's list goes to the Planner. Keep this worksheet.
- In every row, quote or point to one line. Then tick ONE box: SHIP IT (finished and correct, send it) or RUN IT BACK (do it again). Then write your keep-and-fix note.
- Last 60 seconds: hand it back. Read your FIX line out loud: Scout first, then Critic, then Planner.

Party member I'm reviewing: _____ Their role: _____

CHECK	EVIDENCE (QUOTE IT OR POINT TO IT)	SHIP IT	RUN IT BACK
ACCURACY — facts match the card? Every ✓ says how we know?	_____ _____ _____	☐	☐
TASTE — right people and tone for the card? Or could it be for anybody?	_____ _____ _____	☐	☐
DONE-NESS — did they do their whole role card?	_____ _____ _____	☐	☐

The keep-and-fix note: even SHIP IT work gets one. Be so clear that nobody has to guess.

KEEP (what's working and why):

FIX (the exact change + why it matters):

🟢 EXIT TICKET — QUEST CARD FOR A REAL TASK

1. Write a quest card for one real task in YOUR life this week (a study plan, a chore list, a team flyer):

GOAL

WHAT WE KNOW

RULES OF THE RUN

DONE LOOKS LIKE

2. Which role should start on your task first? Check one, then write why:

☐ Planner ☐ Scout ☐ Critic

3. If an AI did your task, which check would its work most likely fail? Check one, then write what to look for:

☐ Accuracy ☐ Taste ☐ Done-ness

The leader rule: if wrong facts ship, the leader said yes to them — the name on the quest is YOURS.
