

STUDENT SESSION • YOU'RE THE PARTY LEADER

Run the Quest

Name: _____ Class: _____ Date: _____

Everyone is a party member AND a leader. Steps 1–2 you're the leader; in Step 3 you switch and play an AI agent for a teammate; in Step 4 you're the leader again. Why the leader matters: an AI agent does a multi-step job on its own — and where your card is vague, it guesses forward. So the leader checks, using the loop: QUEST CARD → ROLES → CHECK THE LOOT → SHIP IT or RUN IT BACK.

Party = your team of 3; a party member does one job. Roles = who does which slice. Quest card = the job, written down in four parts. Loot = the finished work. SHIP IT = good to go. RUN IT BACK = do it again.

✓ STEP 1 — PICK YOUR QUEST (TEAM OF 3, TICK ONE)

☐

GAME NIGHT PAGE — a one-page flyer that gets grades 6–8 to show up

☐

CLASS MAGAZINE, ISSUE #1 — the plan for the first issue of a magazine your class makes

✓ STEP 2 — WRITE THE QUEST CARD (ONE PER TEAM; EVERYONE COPIES IT)

GOAL

What does winning mean?

WHAT WE KNOW

Who is it for, and what does the team already have?

RULES OF THE RUN

Limits: length, tone, deadline

DONE LOOKS LIKE

The exact thing handed back

✓ STEP 3 — ROLE CARDS (TAKE ONE EACH)

Now switch: for 8 minutes YOU play an AI agent. Take one role card and do that job SILENTLY, from the card alone, on your own paper. Then pass your paper one seat left — in Step 4 you're the leader again.

PLANNER

Turn the card into a numbered step list with a time guess per step. Card silent on something? Don't guess — write "NOT ON THE CARD."

SCOUT

List every fact the quest needs. Mark each ✓ (we know it for sure — say how) or ? (needs checking — say where).

CRITIC

Read the card as the audience. At the 4-minute call, read the Planner's list; write 3 upgrades to that plan. "Make it better" is banned.

STEP 4 — LEADER REVIEW: CHECK THE LOOT

You're the leader again; the paper in your hands is the loot. Read it like it ships with your name on it — because it does. Per check, tick SHIP IT (good to go) or RUN IT BACK (do it again).

Party member I'm reviewing: _____ Their role: _____

CHECK	EVIDENCE (QUOTE IT OR POINT TO IT)	SHIP IT	RUN IT BACK
ACCURACY — facts match the card? Every ✓ says how we know?	_____	☐	☐
TASTE — right audience and tone for the card, or for anybody?	_____	☐	☐
DONE-NESS — everything the card asked for is here?	_____	☐	☐

The run-it-back note — even great work gets one. Be specific enough that nobody has to guess.

KEEP (what's working and why):

FIX (the exact change + why it matters):

EXIT TICKET — QUEST CARD FOR A REAL TASK

1. Write a quest card for one real task in YOUR life this week (a study plan, a chore list, a team flyer):

GOAL

WHAT WE KNOW

RULES OF THE RUN

DONE LOOKS LIKE

2. Which role gets it first — and why?

☐

Planner

☐

Scout

☐

Critic

3. Which check would it fail first? Look for:

☐

Accuracy

☐

Taste

☐

Done-ness

The leader rule: if wrong facts ship, the leader signed off — the name on the quest is YOURS.